INTRODUCTION

on Amazon) (collectively "Defendants") as follows:

1. KENU is a San Francisco company that specializes in combining technology, art and design in creating mobile phone products and accessories. One such product is a portable hands free in-car mount for mobile or smartphone devices that attaches to any car air vent (hereafter "AIRFRAME™"). KENU's AIRFRAME™ met immediate success for its elegant design and superior functionality over traditional car mounts that are often bulky or rely on adhesives, which detach over time. Seeking to capitalize on KENU's success, competitors have recently begun copying KENU's innovative design and distinctive AIRFRAMETM trademark to "free ride" on the efforts of KENU. In fact, some of these competitors have even gone so far as to also use the Kenu name to provide the illusion to consumers that they are purchasing genuine KENU products. This action seeks to remedy some of this problem of the unauthorized sale of knock-off and infringing products, by focusing on AMAZON's marketplace, which has been used to sell these products.

II. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

2. This is a civil action seeking damages and injunctive relief for patent infringement, trade dress infringement, violations of the Lanham Act, and unfair competition under California Business and Professions Code §17200 et seq.

LAW OFFICES YTCHETT, PITRE & McCarthy, LLP

- 3. Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1331, this Court has federal subject matter jurisdiction over KENU's claims for patent, trademark, and trade dress infringement. Further, this Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to the following statutes: 28 U.S.C. § 1338(a) (Acts of Congress relating to patents and trademarks); 15 U.S.C. § 1121 et seq. (the Lanham Act); 28 U.S.C. § 1338 (b) (unfair competition joined with trademark law); and 28 U.S.C. § 1367 (a) (supplemental jurisdiction over state and common-law claims).
- 4. The Northern District of California has personal jurisdiction over the Defendants because, among other things, Defendants are engaged in wrongful conduct within the state of California and in this District, including placing into commerce illegal copies of KENU's goods via AMAZON's website located at www.amazon.com, and infringing upon KENU's patent, trademark and trade dress rights. Defendants have maintained substantial, continuous, and systematic contacts with the state of California through their business dealings and activities within and with residents of the state of California. Defendants' conduct causes injury to and is directed at KENU and its intellectual property in the state of California. But for Defendants', KENU would not have suffered damage.
- 5. Venue is proper within this District under 28 U.S.C. § 1391 (b) and (c) because AMAZON transact business within this District and offers for sale in this District products that infringe KENU's intellectual property rights. Pursuant to Local Rule 3-2(c), intellectual property actions are assigned on a district-wide basis.

C. Agency & Concert of Action

28. At all times herein mentioned, Defendants, and each of them, hereinabove, were the agents, servants, employees, partners, alter-egos, aiders and abettors, co-conspirators, and/or joint venturers of each of the other Defendants named herein and were at all times operating and acting within the purpose and scope of said agency, service, employment, partnership, enterprise, conspiracy, and/or joint venture, and each Defendant has ratified and approved the acts of each of the remaining Defendants. Each of the Defendants aided and abetted, encouraged, and rendered substantial assistance to the other Defendants in breaching their obligations to Plaintiffs, as alleged herein. In taking action to aid and abet and substantially assist the commission of these wrongful acts and other wrongdoings complained of, as alleged herein, each of the Defendants acted with an awareness of his/her/its primary wrongdoing and realized that his/her/its conduct would substantially assist the accomplishment of the wrongful conduct, wrongful goals, and wrongdoing.

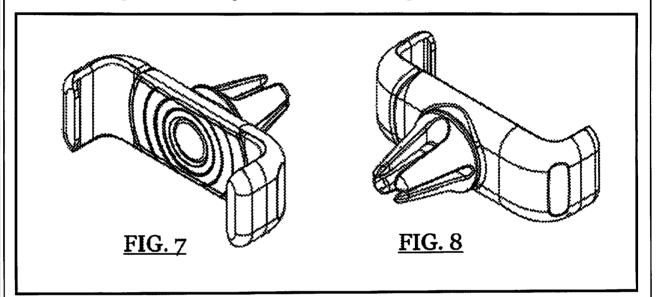

IV. FACTUAL BASIS FOR THE CLAIMS ASSERTED

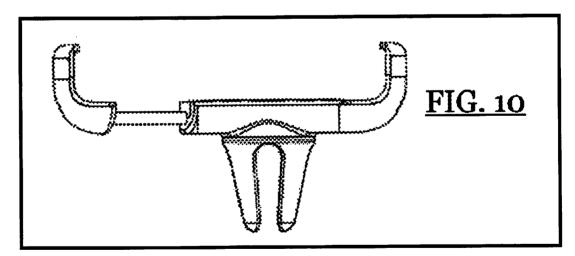

- 29. KENU is a successful mobile phone accessory business that designs, develops, and distributes artistic and functional mobile phone accessories that are one of a kind in today's marketplace. One such product by KENU is the AIRFRAMETM, a portable hands free in-car mount for mobile devices.
- 30. While AIRFRAME™ was released only recently, KENU has already received acclaim for utility and elegant design of its products including the AIRFRAME™, which is sold through numerous merchandisers, retailers and stores nationwide, including Apple Stores, Target, T-Mobile, Sprint and Staples, just to name a few. KENU also markets and sells its AIRFRAME™ product on the Internet, including through its own website located at www.kenu.com.
- 31. In addition to its common law rights, KENU sought protection for its intellectual property rights associated with the AIRFRAMETM product by filing for patent and registering its trademark. Furthermore, KENU has also trademarked its own name by registering it through the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

32. On October 1, 2013, the United States Patent and Trademark Office issued United States Patent No. US D690,707 (the "'707 patent"), entitled "Dashboard Vent Mount for an Electronic Device," for a portable hands free in-car mount for mobile devices. See attached EXHIBIT A.

33. Representative Figures from KENU's patent are referenced below:

- 34. On December 11, 2012, the inventors of the '707 patent, Kenneth Minn and David E. Yao, assigned all of their patent rights in the '707 patent to KENU, which has continuously held the rights to the '707 patent since that date.
- 35. On March 18, 2014, KENU obtained a trademark registration for AIRFRAMETM through the United States Patent and Trademark Office, Registration No. 4,499,171, in

1	International (Class 9, for portable hands free in-car mount for mobile devices. See attached
2	EXHIBIT B.
3	36. Since at least the date of this registration, KENU has continually used the mark
4	AIRFRAME™, including through its website located at www.kenu.com .
5	37. The trade dress associated with KENU's AIRFRAME™ product is distinctive,
6	non-functional, and is owned by KENU.
7	38.	The trade dress associated with KENU's AIRFRAMETM product signifies the
8	source of the A	AIRFRAME™ product to its customers.
9	39.	As a result of considerable efforts, KENU's customers, and the general public,
10	have come to	recognize KENU as an established and successful mobile phone accessory
11	business.
12	40.	KENU's AIRFRAME™ product is one of a kind.
13	41. KENU's AIRFRAME™ product is manufactured with high quality materials
14	designed to ma	aximize product durability and customer satisfaction, whereas the Accused Device
15	is manufactured from lesser quality materials.
16	42. KENU's designs are its own intellectual property. No goods of this design
17	existed prior to	o KENU's designs and patents.
18	43.	AIRFRAME™ is currently KENU's most sought after and sold product.
19	44.	KENU makes substantial revenue from the AIRFRAME TM product.
20	45.	Defendants expose for sale, offer to sell, and sell a portable hands free in-car

16	47.	In add	lition to	these infringing products, KENU also received from AMAZON

NU also received from AMAZON knock-off devices, representative pictures of which are provided below:

48. The Accused devices available from AMAZON through www.amazon.com violate KENU's patent and trade dress rights, and/or trademark rights at least to the ASIN numbers identified above.

49. The use of WINDFRAME and AIRFRAME to market a counterfeit product as to at least AMAZON ASIN numbers B00MYRIE1Y and B00MDU1G30, is likely to cause consumer confusion between that product and KENU's AIRFRAMETM mark.

50. KENU's '707 patent covers the Accused devices exposed for sale, offered for sale, and sold through AMAZON seller defendants.

51. The Accused Devices violate KENU's trade dress rights in its AIRFRAMETM product by causing confusion among ordinary consumers as to the source, sponsorship, affiliation, or approval of KENU's AIRFRAMETM product.

52. On October 15, 2014, KENU's attorney sent AMAZON a letter advising that AMAZON was placing in the stream of commerce products that infringed upon KENU's property rights, including KENU's patent, trademark, and trade dress rights. See attached EXHIBIT C.

- 53. On December 5, 2014, AMAZON's website indicated that many of the Accused devices still remained on its website.
- 54. Despite KENU's request, AMAZON and AMAZON seller defendants continue to expose for sale, offer for sale, and sell the infringing Accused Devices on its website.
- 55. Defendants' exposing for sale, offering for sale, and selling the infringing Accused devices on AMAZON's website violates KENU's intellectual property rights by warehousing and/or offering for sale Accused devices, resulting in facilitation of third-party purchases of Accused Devices that violate KENU's intellectual property rights.
- 56. Likewise, on information and belief, at least the AMAZON seller defendants' import into the United States the Accused Devices, also violate KENU's intellectual property rights.
- 57. AMAZON manages and controls the items that can be exposed for sale, offered for sale, and sold on its website.
- 58. AMAZON manages and controls which sellers can expose for sale, offer for sale, sell, and purchase products on its website.
 - 59. AMAZON profits from its website, as sellers must pay a fee to sell items.
- 60. But for AMAZON and the AMAZON seller defendants exposing for sale, offering for sale, and selling the Accused devices, KENU would not have been damaged nor would its intellectual property rights have been infringed.
- 61. After receiving notice of KENU's patent, trademark and trade dress rights, AMAZON continued to induce third parties to list counterfeit and illegal products on its website.
- 62. AMAZON chose to ignore KENU's notice because of the financial incentives it receives from its website.
- 63. AMAZON's willful and deliberate actions have caused significant harm to KENU.
 - 64. AMAZON has induced third parties to infringe on KENU's patent rights.

AMAZON has contributorily infringed on KENU's trademark rights.

2 66. AMAZON has contributorily infringed on KENU's trade dress rights. 3 67. Defendants placed in the stream of commerce illegal products that are 4 significantly cheaper than KENU's product. 68. 5 KENU has lost customers and revenue due to the illegal and infringing products 6 being put in to the stream of commerce by Defendants. 7 69. Despite KENU's attempts to resolve this matter amicably and without litigation, 8 KENU has been required to bring suit for damages and injunctive relief. 9 V. CAUSES OF ACTION 10 FIRST CLAIM FOR RELIEF 11 PATENT INFRINGEMENT (Against AMAZON SELLER DEFEDNANTS) 12 35 U.S.C. § 271(a) 13 KENU incorporates and re-alleges each of the allegations set forth above as 70. 14 though fully set forth herein. 15 AMAZON Seller Defendants infringed upon the rights of KENU's '707 patent by 71. 16 exposing for sale, offering to sell, selling, and importing the Accused Devices in the United 17 States. 18 AMAZON Seller Defendants will continue to infringe the '707 patent unless and 72. 19 injunction is granted by this Court. 20 AMAZON Seller Defendants' acts are willful, in disregard of, and with 73. 21 indifference to, the rights of KENU. 22 As a direct and proximate cause of the infringement by AMAZON Seller 74. 23 Defendants, KENU is entitled to reasonable royalties and lost profits in amounts to be proven at 24 trial, enhanced damages, and reasonable attorney's fees pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 285. 25 Additionally, AMAZON Seller Defendants are liable to KENU to the extent of their total profits, 26 but not less than $250, pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 289. 27 WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays for relief as set forth below. 28

COMPLAINT

SECOND CLAIM FOR RELIEF PATENT INFRINGEMENT BY INDUCEMENT (Against AMAZON) 35 U.S.C. §271(b)

- 75. KENU incorporates and re-alleges each of the allegations set forth above as though fully set forth herein.
- 76. AMAZON has infringed upon the rights of KENU's patent by inducing individuals and companies to infringe upon the rights of KENU's '707 patent.
- 77. AMAZON, with knowledge of KENU's patent rights, has continued to allow the Accused Devices to be exposed for sale, offered for sale, and sold on its website at www.amaon.com with knowledge that the Accused Devises infringe the '707 patent.
- 78. AMAZON will continue to induce infringement of the '707 patent through its website at www.amazon.com unless enjoined by this Court.
- 79. AMAZON's acts are willful, in disregard of, and with indifference to, the rights of KENU.
- 80. As a direct and proximate cause of the infringement by AMAZON, KENU is entitled to reasonable royalties and lost profits in amounts to be proven at trial, enhanced damages, and reasonable attorney's fees pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 285. Additionally, AMAZON is liable to KENU to the extent of its total profit, but not less than $250, pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 289.

THIRD CLAIM FOR RELIEF TRADEMARK INFRINGEMENT (Against FINE ELEMENTS, TOKYO SUBWAYTM, ESBUYFU, GENERIC, LIMETECH, PHONE HOLDERS, PROTEOVE and WIZGEAR) 15 U.S.C. §1125(a)(1)

- 82. AMAZON Seller Defendants known as Fine Elements, Tokyo SubwayTM, Esbuyfu, Generic, Limetech, Phone Holders, Proteove and Wizgear have infringed KENU's trademark rights in its AIRFRAME™ mark by using the confusingly similar names WINDFRAME and AIRFRAME to sell the same product.

- 83. On information and belief, Fine Elements, Tokyo SubwayTM, Esbuyfu, Generic, Limetech, Phone Holders, Proteove and Wizgear have used the names WINDFRAME and AIRFRAME, despite the knowledge that the Accused Devices are likely to cause confusion among ordinary consumers as to the source, sponsorship, affiliation, or approval of KENU's AIRFRAMETM product.
- 84. The acts of Fine Elements, Tokyo SubwayTM, Esbuyfu, Generic, Limetech, Phone Holders, Proteove and Wizgear are willful, in disregard of, and with indifference to the rights of KENU.
- 85. As a direct and proximate cause of the infringement by Fine Elements, Tokyo SubwayTM, Esbuyfu, Generic, Limetech, Phone Holders, Proteove and Wizgear, KENU is entitled to reasonable royalties and lost profits in amounts to be proven at trial, enhanced damages, and reasonable attorney's fees pursuant to 15 U.S.C. §1117.

FOURTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF CONTRIBUTORY TRADEMARK INFRINGEMENT (Against AMAZON) 15 U.S.C. §1125(a)(1)

- 86. KENU restates and re-alleges each of the allegations set forth above as though fully set forth herein.
- 87. AMAZON has engaged in contributory infringement of KENU's trademark rights in its AIRFRAME™ mark by inducing individuals and companies to infringe upon the rights of KENU's trademark.
- 88. AMAZON has allowed the Accused Devices to be offered and sold on its website, despite knowledge that the Accused Devices being offered and sold on its website are likely to cause confusion among ordinary consumers as to the source, sponsorship, affiliation, or approval of KENU's AIRFRAMETM product.

89.	AMAZON'S acts are willful, in disregard of, and with indifference to the rights of KENU.

90. As a direct and proximate cause of the infringement by AMAZON, KENU is entitled to reasonable royalties and lost profits in amounts to be proven at trial, enhanced damages, and reasonable attorney's fees pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1117.

FIFTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF TRADE DRESS INFRINGEMENT (Against AMAZON SELLER DEFENDANTS) 15 U.S.C. §1125(a)(1)

- 91. KENU restates and re-alleges each of the allegations set forth above as though fully set forth herein.
- 92. AMAZON Seller Defendants have engaged in infringement of KENU's trade dress rights in its AIRFRAMETM product by placing into commerce the Accused Devices.
- 93. AMAZON Seller Defendants have offered and sold the Accused Device, despite knowledge that the Accused Devices being offered and sold are likely to cause confusion among ordinary consumers as to the source, sponsorship, affiliation, or approval of KENU's AIRFRAMETM product.
- 94. AMAZON Seller Defendants' acts are willful, in disregard of, and with indifference to the rights of KENU.
- 95. As a direct and proximate cause of the infringement by AMAZON Seller Defendants, KENU is entitled to reasonable royalties and lost profits in amounts to be proven at trial, enhanced damages, and reasonable attorney's fees pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1117.

SIXTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF CONTRIBUTORY TRADE DRESS INFRINGEMENT (Against AMAZON) 15 U.S.C. §1125(a)(1)

96. KENU restates and re-alleges each of the allegations set forth above as though fully set forth herein.

	97.	AMAZON	has	engaged	in	contributory	infringement	of	KENU's	trade	dress
rights	in its A	IRFRAMET	o pro	duct by i	indu	cing individu	als and compa	anie	s to infrin	ige upo	on the trade o	dress rig	hts in KENU	's pi	roduct.

- 98. AMAZON has allowed the Accused Device to be offered and sold on its website, despite knowledge that the Accused Device being offered and sold on its website is likely to cause confusion among ordinary consumers as to the source, sponsorship, affiliation, or approval of KENU's AIRFRAMETM product.
- 99. AMAZON's acts are willful, in disregard of, and with indifference to the rights of KENU.
- 100. As a direct and proximate cause of infringement by AMAZON, KENU is entitled to reasonable royalties and lost profits in amounts to be proven at trial, enhanced damages, and reasonable attorney's fees pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1117.

SEVENTH CLAIM FOR RELIEF UNFAIR COMPETITION

CALIFORNIA BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONS CODE §17200, ET SEQ. (Against ALL DEFENDANTS)

Cal.Bus.&Prof. Code §17200, et seq.

- 101. KENU restates and re-alleges each of the allegations set forth above as though fully set forth herein.
- 102. The above described acts and omissions, including but not limited to, Defendants' continued infringement of KENU's design patent, and their infringement of KENU's trademark and/or trade dress rights, constitute unfair competition under section 17200 et seq. of the California Business and Professions Code.
- 103. By reason of these wrongful acts and omissions by Defendants, KENU has suffered and will suffer damage. Additionally, these wrongful acts and omissions by Defendants have caused, and unless restrained and enjoined by this Court will continue to cause, serious irreparable injury and damage to KENU.

Amazon Corporate Counsel

Re: Kenu, Inc. – Notice of Possible Infringement of Design Patent And Trade Dress Rights

Dear Mr. Sanford:

My office represents Kenu, Inc. ("Kenu"). This letter is a follow up to an email sent by my client on August 27, 2014, which informed Amazon that it was selling and/or offering to sell what my client believes are products that likely violate Kenu's valuable patent and trade dress rights related to its AIRFRAMETM product.

Kenu is a United States business incorporated in the state of Delaware, with its headquarters located in San Francisco, California. Kenu was founded in 2010, with the goal of developing modern, artistic designs for consumer electronics accessories. In 2013, Kenu released the AIRFRAMETM, a new design for a portable, hands-free car mount for consumer electronics, especially cell phones. Kenu sells the AIRFRAMETM product to consumers around the world, including the United States.

Kenu is the legal owner of multiple design patents globally. The AIRFRAME™ is a patented product under US Design Patent 690,707 (See attached Exhibit A). In addition, the trade dress associated with Kenu's AIRFRAME™ product is distinctive, non-functional, and is owned by Kenu. The trade dress associated with Kenu's AIRFRAME™ product signifies the source of the AIRFRAME™ product to its customers. As a result of considerable efforts, Kenu's customers, and the general public, have come to recognize Kenu as an established and successful mobile phone accessory business.

In the same August 27, 2014 email, my client also informed Amazon of the particular ASIN numbers that were possibly infringing on the patent described above. Since that date additional infringing products have been on sale on your website. For reference, these included:

ASIN: B00MV9M53I by iRAG

ASIN: B00MS1CYHQ by eQualle

ASIN: B00MYRIE1Y by Fine Elements
ASIN: B00LFUNGU0 by Bell+Howell

ASIN: B00MDU1G30 by Tokyo SubwayTM

ASIN: B00NZ3ON6Q by Mlison

LAW OFFICES

COTCHETT, PITRE & McCARTHY, LLP

ASIN: B00N0MYOG6 by Esbuyfu

ASIN: B00O0UJAW0 by Generic

ASIN: B00MUAMM5O by OVO Direct

ASIN: B00MH5IS3M by Nexcon

ASIN: B00MH51S3M by Fradia12484

Additionally, my client requested some of its product back from Amazon to see what was being sold. Instead of receiving its own product, the first box Amazon shipped contained 50 counterfeit AIRFRAMETM products from its own warehouse. Although my client was credited for those product, Amazon pulled a fee from this credit.

Rather than respond to the take down request sought by my client, your company seeks to push off responsibility and raise a legal defense to the sale of imitation and possibly infringing products on your website. Your company's response to shift blame and claim immunity does nothing to address the problem regarding Amazon selling and offering for sale infringing and counterfeit goods on its website. The delay, especially with the impending Christmas shopping season, does nothing other than erode and dilute Kenu's reputation and business.

In a second and last effort to avoid having to formally enforce my client's rights, my client demands that the above listed items be taken down from your website and removed from your catalogue of products. Further, my client requests that all counterfeit Kenu products be removed from Amazon warehouses as it appears that the counterfeit items have been commingled with genuine AIRFRAMETM products. If these items are not taken down within 15 days of the date of this letter, we will seek intervention to prevent your company from continuing to offer possible infringing and imitation products on your website, in addition to damages for the sale of such products. Finally, please reverse Amazon's commission that it took from the credited counterfeit products discussed above.

If you have any questions or concerns, please contact me directly at the address or phone number indicated above. Your attention to this matter is appreciated.

ARA JABAGCHOURIAN
